Your clients give you 5 stars. Does the internet show that?

This is the Customer view: I looked at Narcissus Day Spa the way a new client would. First what people say on Google, then what they find when they look for your website. Here is what I found.

What clients say and what the internet shows

On Google, clients rate you

5 ★ stars on Google

★★★★★

Every one of those stars was earned in person. That trust is your strongest asset.

Add missing information

On Google you have 5 stars, which means people who come to you leave happy. That's what makes someone trust you with their skin and their look. But when I looked for your website, I couldn't find one.

POINTS MAPPED FOR NARCISSUS DAY SPA

I found 12 points. I unlocked 3 to get you started.

3 of 12 points unlocked in this diagnosis

1 UNLOCKED

There's no website to land on

People who find you on Google have nowhere to see your work, your prices and your reviews in one place.

2 UNLOCKED

You only show up when they already know your name

Without a site, you rarely appear when someone searches for the service in your area.

3 UNLOCKED

Every booking depends on a call or a DM

Many people won't call a business they don't know yet. They choose the one they can book online.

HOW I SOLVE THIS FOR YOU

From diagnosis to a website that brings clients

1 Strategy for your business

I define with you what makes Narcissus Day Spa different and what your clients search for before they choose. Everything else is built on that.

2 A custom, animated website

Design and copy made for you, fast and beautiful on phones, with your best work on the first screen. You approve everything before it goes live.

3 Connected to Google

Your Google listing points to the new site, with a clear button to book or ask for a quote, so the trust from your reviews turns into contacts.
